Simplify Training With a Customer Enrollment Portal

Dedicated exclusively to your organization's training program

At any given moment, you may have dozens of employees in need of vendor-approved IT training. And as a training decision-maker, you're responsible for keeping track of everything — including each employee's needs and progress, their courses, management approvals, your overall training budget and more.

Simplify the training management process with the ExitCertified Customer Enrollment Portal — dedicated exclusively to your organization's training program. With easy course-management options, design customization down to your company's logo and real-time training insights, this portal has everything you and your organization need.

Your employees can browse and select relevant courses and create learning plans based on your organization's chosen priorities. And if your organization has custom discounts, those will be reflected in the prices you see.

With a dedicated portal, your organization gains:

- Simplified access
- Customized training options
- Easier budget management
- Custom branding

You can get real insight into the impact of your organization's commitment to training, as your Customer Enrollment Portal enables you to monitor budgets and training performance in real time, and makes it easy to fine-tune individual learning plans for maximum results.

Through your portal, you can give training access to everyone in your company, or just a select group of users — whoever needs it, whenever they need it. And you can customize the technology stacks and authorized training brands users see.

Advantages of a Customer Enrollment Portal:

- Employees choose their own training from your pre-approved list of courses
- Administration is simplified, and prices reflect all corporate discounts
- You can monitor the impact of your training, and make adjustments in real time
- Branding the portal with your company logo helps increase employee trust and engagement
